

S.Y. Phang

Business Owner of Word Design Communication and Flexi Associates

S.Y. Phang started working remotely as a single girl, then as a mother, and now as a GlamMa. She advocates remote and hybrid work to promote work-life balance/integration.

Strangely, we are busy with full-time jobs when our young children need us the most. When we retire, our children are leaving for further studies and work.

She hopes that companies will reverse this trend to fulfil their CSR and ESG obligations. Presently, she is collaborating with business owners and associates to create business models for mothers on career breaks.
